WE SHAPE THEREAFTER

FOREWORD

A building is constructed with many products made by man from his environment. Materials such as cement and steel make the building permanent enough to accommodate the ever changing flow of students. Winston Churchill stated, "We shape our buildings; thereafter they shape us". As each individual is shaped within these walls, they grow in mind, heart, and soul and learn the spirit of becoming a true professional nurse. The Caps and Capes Staff wish to present to you this collection of thoughts, ideas and events of our past school year.

WE DEDICATE . . .

We, the class of 1975, would like to dedicate our yearbook to Mrs. Saide S. Nash who retired this year after serving Charity Hospital School of Nursing for thirty-eight years.

Saide Nash came to C.H.S.N. from Vero Beach, Florida as a student in 1931. She graduated in 1934 with an award for her high scholastic average. She earned a B.S. in Nursing Education from L.S.U. Mrs. Nash has served the school since that time in several capacities: Secretary of the School of Nursing, then Assistant Director, becoming Registrar in 1941. This was her position at the time of her retirement.

Her manner was quiet and unassuming. Although her work was primarily behind the scenes, we know from the three directors of the school with whom she worked, that her efficiency, exactness, and dependability contributed to the smooth running of the school.

Ovid wrote "Finish thoroughly . . . the work you have set for yourself." Mrs. Nash did just that and we wish her a long and happy retirement.

HEALTH DEPARTMENT

The duties of meeting the physical and emotional needs of each student lie within the responsibilities of the Health and Counseling Departments. Medical and nursing care is provided and referrals are made to Charity Hospital if necessary. For a healthier student nurse, a bi-annual lab and chest x-ray are done. The counseling department provides group guidance sessions for incoming freshmen during their initial weeks.

NURSING OF

Nursing of Children offers the student a comprehensive picture of the child which includes his growth and development, his care and his health problems. The student is provided with guided learning experiences, which when properly utilized will assist him in acquiring knowledge to develop basic understanding, concepts and skills needed to give scientifically sound nursing care to the child.

CHILDREN

Leonard Gonzales and Lynn Ricca provide sound nursing care for children.

For some children the hospital is "home, sweet home."

NURSING

RIGHT: Joyce Moore checks patient's vital signs to ensure his receiving proper medical care. BELOW: Pat Templet offers a cheerful smile which is a very important asset in the emergency room.

Community Nursing offers a concurrent theory and practice of understanding the physical and emotional needs of the non-hospitalized person and his family in our multi-cultural and multi-racial society. The student gains increased amounts of nursing knowledge and skills to meet selected health needs. Through community health resources, through mental health centers, they are responsible for providing physical, emotional, and spiritual care of patients and their families in emergency and disaster.

ABOVE: Miss Madrid helps youngster on orthopedic ward to select reading materials as part of meeting his diversional needs.

MED-SURG NURSING

Senior Med-Surg is a field of nursing which assists students to develop the ability to design, implement, and evaluate quality nursing care for groups of patients at various stages of illness. Using the team nursing approach, care is planned and implemented for individual patients and groups of patients. The clinical areas used for experience include orthopedics, neurological and neurosurgical units, general medical units, and medical and respiratory intensive care units. LEFT: Dennis Pinkozic and Brenda Robbins adjust I.V. tubing.

Senior Seminar

Senior Seminar was designed to broaden the seniors' point of view of the changing world of nursing and the entire medical field. Weekly group sessions are held and issues of interest are presented by the students. ABOVE: Miss Cooper lectures in class.

Mrs. B. Johnson-Head Instructor

Miss S. Cooper-Senior Seminar

Mrs. D. Eppling, Instructor

Miss B. Illg, Instructor

Mrs. S. Meyers, Instructor

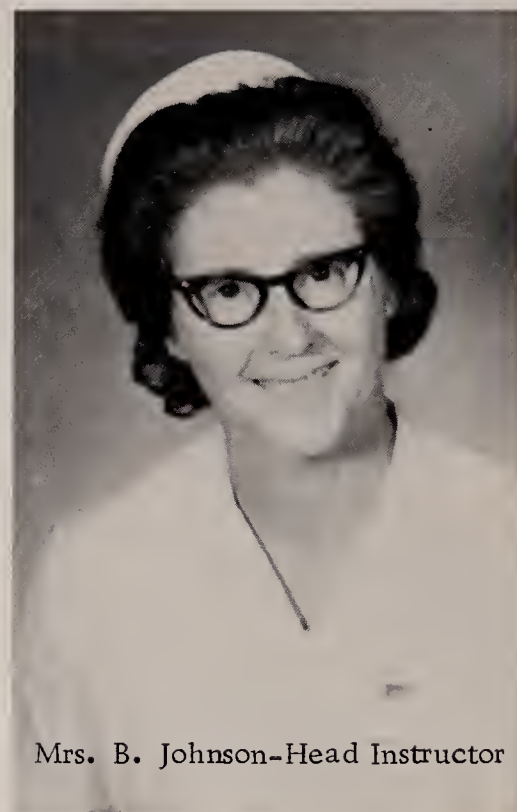

Surgical Nursing II offers the student concurrent theory and nursing experience in the care of adult patients with complex surgical problems. The clinical areas used are the general surgery wards, the genitourinary wards, surgical intensive care and cardiac care units.

LEFT: Mary Hart takes blood pressure while Miss Illg regulates I.V. on surgery patient. BELOW: Lynel Kelly, Helen Ruberts, Gayle Ledet, and Dottie Lefler make nursing rounds on C.C.U.

Mrs. B. Johnson-Head Instructor

Mrs. J. Gage-Instructor

This course offers concurrent theory and nursing experience in caring for adult patients with selected medical problems. The student is assisted in acquiring knowledge and developing an understanding of the pathophysiology, diagnostic tests, clinical manifestations, medical therapies, and nursing management of selected medical conditions. The physical, psychological, social, spiritual and educational needs of these patients are identified, and basic nursing actions with applied principles are evaluated.

SURGICAL

Mrs. B. Chapoton-
Instructor

Suzanne Olivier regulates I.V. in order to prevent fluid overload during the immediate post-op period.

History of Nursing

Mrs. C. Rosabal-
History of Nursing Instructor

History of Nursing was designed to survey the historical development of nursing as a profession and the leaders who have established the traditions and ideals of nursing. Social institutions are studied to show how social and economic conditions have influenced the expression of nursing ideals. It is hoped that the student will learn to appreciate the professional heritage of nursing, especially the contribution of great personalities who have established nursing traditions and ideals.

NURSING I

This course offers concurrent theory and nursing experience in the care of the patient during the pre-operative, operative, and post-operative phases of the surgical cycle. The student is assisted in acquiring knowledge of fundamental, physical and psychological needs of the patient, and is provided with opportunities to plan and initiate nursing measures based on observation, scientific principles, and priority needs of the surgical patient. The experience includes five weeks in the operating room, learning the skills of the scrub nurse and circulating nurse, two weeks in the recovery room, and three weeks on general surgery wards.

RIGHT: Janis Joly gives recovery room care to patient.
BELOW: Stephanie Powell and Mrs. Chapaton discuss plans to be implemented during nursing experience in the recovery room.

MATERNITY AND NEWBORN NURSING

BELOW: Catherine Vautrot satisfying infant's needs by providing comfort and nutrition.

This course prepares the student nurse for care of the maternity patient and the newborn, normal and premature. Some theory in the care of patients with gynecology problems is also included with emphasis on the relationship of these problems to maternity nursing.

Diane Tingle remembers the handwashing technique learned in Fundamental I course. Here handwashing plays an important part.

Psychiatric Nursing

This course offers concurrent theory and nursing experience in psychiatric nursing. Establishing therapeutic nurse-patient relationships is the major focus of the course, with emphasis on understanding behavior, both normal and disturbed, and the role of the nurse in psychiatric care. Experience is gained in establishing one-to-one nurse-patient relationships and in participating in group activities with patients.

ABOVE: Katherine Jacobson lends a helping hand to a patient in need. BELOW LEFT: Celeste Echelard plays cards with a patient.

Mary Lynn Gauthreaux discusses process recordings with instructor Mrs. Betty Hebert. "Now, Mary, what about this block?" "Well, Mrs. Hebert, that's the way it went."

Miss M. Medlin
Instructor

Mrs. B. Hebert

TOP RIGHT: Vicki Kent says to Amelie Lastropes, "Pull tight; sheets free of wrinkles, creases and seams aid in circulation to bony prominences and prevent decubiti." ABOVE: Debbie Stewart and Claudia Launey play cards with the patient, knowing the every form of communication is valuable.

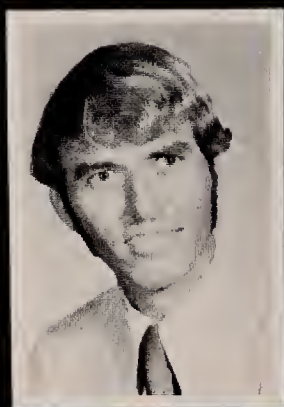

The patterns of human emotions from birth to death are explained in an intriguing fashion.

DYNAMICS OF GROWTH AND BEHAVIOR

The study of the structures and functions of bones, muscles, organs and cells are of vital importance for all nurses.

PHYSIOLOGY AND ANATOMY

Mr. D. Crais
Instructor

"Osmolarity", "normality", and "diffusion" are some of the difficult topics discussed.

CHEMISTRY

This is a beginning nursing course designed to prepare the students to organize a plan of care to meet all their patients' needs.

FUNDAMENTALS OF NURSING

WESTERN

This subject awakens the student to the realization that microscopic forms of life are found on everything.

MICROBIOLOGY

Daily food requirements must be met to keep the body in perfect working condition. Students are taught the uses of vitamins, minerals, fats, carbohydrates and proteins.

NUTRITION

Mrs. J. Smith
Instructor

This is an elementary course in the classification and calculation of common drugs.

PHARMACOLOGY

An understanding of man's role in his environment enables the student nurse to adapt to various customs and habits.

Mrs. F. Moore
Librarian

One of the newest additions in CHSN is the Media Center, which occupies the third floor of the new education building. In addition to the traditional library facilities, there is use of various media for individual and independent instruction, as well as for instructor's use of these materials in classroom teaching. Closed circuit television programs can be directed to classrooms, the learning lab and preview room from the Television and Control Room. Within the center a learning lab electronically-equipped carrell affords privacy for the use of multi-media and programmed instruction by the individual student.

Mrs. C. Young and Mrs. V. Roubleau assist students in the Media Center.

ACTIVITIES

STUDENT COUNCIL

Council members have functioned in all areas of campus activity by serving as a basic unit of student government, as the voice of the student body and as the liaison between students, faculty and administration. Student Body officers are elected yearly by the students. Officers for this year are Mary Iannazzo, president; Adrienne Debrow, 1st vice-president; Roslyn Johnny, 2nd vice-president; Sandra Gilibert, secretary; Suzanne Olivier, treasurer; Carolyn Daigle, parliamentarian.

Mary Iannazzo, president, takes time out for a snapshot while preparing diligently for meetings.

J U D B O A R D I C I A R Y

Judiciary Board is a branch of the student government which enforces student regulations. The board, whose chairman is the 1st Vice-President of the Student Council, Roslyn Johnny, consists of three representatives from each class and is sponsored by Mrs. Burvant, Student Body Advisor.

Student Rights and Privileges

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES COMMITTEE

The Social Activities Committee consists of representatives from classes and organizations of the school. Together with the sponsor, Susan Taylor, Director of Social Activities, events are planned year round. This year we were able to have several beach parties, movies, picnics, Winter and Spring formals, and parties for all occasions. We hope that next year will be even more exciting. Our aim for the future is to increase school spirit and social activity among students.

CHASN

Charity Hospital Association of Student Nurses

CHASN participated at the State Convention in Lake Charles Louisiana, having placed third in talent competition. Elren Davis was selected as CHASN's representative for Student Nurse of the State. Several fund raising projects, sales and raffles were held to provide funds for National Student Nurse Convention in Minneapolis, Minnesota, in May. Four students attended and brought back many new and stimulating ideas for next year. CHASN plans to be the most outstanding professional organization in future years.

SIGMA ALPHA CHI

H O N O R S O C I E T Y

Several S.A.C. members pose for picture. SEATED, LEFT TO RIGHT: Patricia Lagrange, Louise Harrell, Sue Finley. STANDING, LEFT TO RIGHT: Mary Moore, Mary Iannazzo.

Sigma Alpha Chi, the honorary scholastic society of Charity Hospital School of Nursing, has as its motto, "Knowledge once gained casts a light beyond its immediate boundaries." Members are selected from students who after completing the first semester of their junior year have maintained a cumulative quality point average of 2.2, have maintained leadership and interest in at least two school activities and are of good moral character.

LIBRARY CLUB

This year the Library Club had the pleasure of assisting in a brand new library with many modern and exciting assets. The club's purpose is to assist the librarian in time of need and to make students aware of the valuable information which can be obtained through our library. The members attend cultural attraction such as Delgado Museum and various symphonies.

BLACK STUDENT ORGANIZATION

"Witch" Stephanie Powell brews up her special Halloween drink, as Donna Savoie, Linda Schreiber and Patti Millet join in and listen. Below is a mummy, just in from Egypt!

Is it who you think it is? Yes, it's Cheryl Jardell, doubling for Elvis Presley.

Halloween features,
     you see crazy creatures.
 Along the busy streets,
     Many friends you meet.
 Other nights you're lazy,
     Halloween, you're crazy.
 Disguised as a clown,
     hearing haunting sounds.
 From door to door we knock,
     running from block to block.
 at the end of the night, the kids are beat,
     hoarse from hollering -
     "Trick or Treat"

CHARITY STYLE!

Halloween is a fun time at Charity. On October 31st of every year, all the ghosts, witches, and goblins come out to play "trick or treat" with the student nurses. There's games of all kinds and lots of "goodies" for all the trick or treaters. To the LEFT is Joan Reichert masking as a little man.

As I hope you have seen on the preceding pages, we have a lot to be proud of at Charity Hospital School of Nursing. It has been the job of the editorial staff to try to convey some of the hard works, exciting challenges and fun events which we have experienced this past year and indeed, since our first days at Charity Hospital School of Nursing.

As with most things, there has been a mixture of the old and new, of comings and goings. While dedicated staff such as Mrs. Nash will be deeply missed, we are thankful for our new building and look forward to even greater educational and recreational opportunities for student nurses.

I have had a wonderful three years. I have met many people who will be life-long friends. I have studied hard to meet uncompromising yet unexcelled, standards in nursing education, and have had the thrill and pride of accomplishment. I have prepared to become a self-sufficient, contributing member of society, and a practitioner of an old and noble profession, whose values of work, discipline and benefit to others seem even more needed these days. I look forward to the future.

We should all be proud of our school, our class and ourselves. I will miss you all. Best of luck.
